IN VACATION.

Difference in Degree Only.—A former judge who had become cashier in a western bank once declined to honor a check that a stranger had presented. "The check is all right," he said, "but the evidence you offer in identifying yourself as the person to whose order it is drawn is scarcely sufficient."

"I have known you to hang a man on less evidence, judge," was the stranger's response.

"Quite likely," replied the ex-judge, "but when we're giving up cold cash we have to be careful."—Lawyer and Banker.

Too Much Rush.—Sympathetic Inquirer: "Why were you arrested?"
Sobered Victim: "I hired an automobile for an hour."

S. I.: "Well, that is no offense."

S. V.: "I know but I tried to ride the hour in ten minutes."

Taking Advantage of an Opportunity.—A traveling salesman driving his car along a country road came upon a victim of a grade-crossing accident. The car was a complete wreck and its former occupant just "coming to." He leaned over the injured man and shook him.

"What's the matter, brother, an accident?"

"Yes."

"Did the engineer blow his whistle?"

"No."

"Did anyone see it?"

"No."

"Well, tell me, has the claim agent been around yet?"

"No."

"Then, for heaven's sake, move over and let me lie down."—Los Angeles Times.

Strategy.—"A beautiful lady lawyer to defendant a beautiful client. What chance have we to win this case?"

"Can't we get a few homely ladies on the jury?"—Birmingham Age-Herald.

As Usual.—Flatbush—"You say your wife went to college before you married her?"

Bensonhurst—"Yes, she did."

Flatbush—"And she thought of taking up law, you said."

Bensonhurst—"Yes, but now she's satisfied to lay it down."—Yonkers Statesman.
